Sprint 2 Retrospective

There needs to be better communication to all developers about changes requested by the users. The team agreed to use the Iterative Design Process document located in the Visual Design, Interaction Design, and Usability Testing folder to record the requested changes.